“A zone disk tiller drill System”

(AO1C, 15/00)

139296

The invention relates to a system useful for the purpose of agriculture. It is a highly improved machine working with a tractor of 50 or higher horse power. The machine consists of two essential unit's i.e. a zone tillage unit and a seed drilling unit. The zone tillage unit further consists of a frame, disk coulters, coulters shaft, differential shaft universal shaft and the differential gear box.. The main components of the drilling unit are seed and fertilizer boxes and the seed/fertilizer metering mechanism.
